Information collected by our website

What we collect

For the purpose of making an enquiry or placing an order, our website may collect the following information. Your name and appropriate contact information including email address, address, preferences and interests.

Your privacy is of the highest importance to us, and we promise never to release your personal details to any outside company for mailing or marketing purposes.

Controlling your personal information

Under the Data protection act you may request the details of any personal information we hold about you. We do not disclose, sell or distribute your personal information to any third parties unless we have your permission or are required to do so by law. With your consent may use your personal information to send you promotional information.

Security

Website Security: Security is a priority and we review and update our systems frequently. In order to prevent unauthorised access or disclosure, we employ appropriate physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we maintain and collect online.

Payment Security

We take every reasonable precaution to protect your personal information and prevent its loss, misuse or alteration. Your payment is processed using an independent company's secure payment processing system. We do not see or have access to any of your payment card information at any time. Additional Terms and Conditions for payments made by PayPal can be found at www.paypal.co.uk.

Cookies used by our website

Your consent for cookie deployment by our website

In compliance with the 2011 EU Cookie Law, our website operates on an 'Implied Consent' basis. This means that we will assume that you have opted-in for our website to deploy cookies until you choose to deactivate them within your browser settings.

Social Network Sharing

We encourage users to share our content and/or like our profile on the popular Social Media websites Facebook, Twitter. Cookies and privacy implications from the social networks vary and will be dependent on your nominated privacy settings with each Social Network. Social Sharing buttons will only deploy cookies if you are signed to that respective Social Network at the time of being on our website.
